Last Sunday Times Wants Cash Prize Proverh Contest.

"Light Gains Make Heavy Purses."
The letters (IAPNESASLKGUEYIIISR VTAEGMH) published in last "Sunday's Times Wants," when properly arranged, form the well known proverb. "Light gains make heavy purses," and the first and only prize was awarded to Miss Salles Drake of Clarkeville. Va. she giving lie Drake, of Clarksville, Va., she giving the only correct answer. The foregoing capital letters will be found in the center of words in the columns of last "Sun day's Times Wants." as follows, viz: "I" in the tenth ad., "A" in the twenty-second ad. of the first column, "P" in the twenty-fourth ad. of the second column, "N" in the fourteenth ad. of the third column, "E" in the ninth ad. "S" in the thirtieth ad. of the fourth column, "A" in the sevtwentieth ad. "L' in the twenty-ninth ad of the sixth column, "K" in the fifth ad., "G" in the twenty-fifth ad. of the seventh column of the eighth page. "U" in the third ad., "E" in the twelfth ad., "Y" in the twentieth ad., "T' in the twenty-ninth ad., "H" in the thirty-first ad., "S" in the thirty-fifth ad., "R' in the thirty-sixth ad., "V" in the thirty-ninth ad. "H" in the sixteenth ad. of the third column. twentieth ad., 'L' in the twenty-ninth column.

The proverb in to-day's "Times Wants" is composed of twenty-eight letters, and will be found scattered through the "Times Wants" columns. Try to work out the proverb. You will find it interacting, amusing and instructive, and you may win the first of the seven eash prizes given to the parties sending in the first seven correct answers. The first prize is $2. the second $1, and the third, fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh prizes 50 cents each.

All letters for this contest should be addressed to the "Preverb Department," Times office. They will be numbered as received, before opening, and the first seven correct answers will, receive the seven cash prizes in the order stated above.

Everybody is interested in the "Sun-Everyhody is interested in the Sout-day Times Wants," making it the best ad-vertising medium of the South, and an ad-piaced in those columns will convince the most skeptical. Try it; the cost is small, but the results are great. One cent a word; 100 words, $7.50. Just phone Daniels, 'Phones—new, 250; old, 549.

All the Episcopal Churches in this city to-mor-row morning will hold services at 10 o'clock, in order that the rectors, vestries and congregations may take part in the and congregations may take part in the ervices at St. John's.

St. John's sprang from the work of one St. John's sprang from the work of one devoted church woman, Miss Margaret Wallace, who taught a small private school on the corner of South and Shepherd Streets. She interested Dr. T. Stanley Beckwith and Messrs. Emmett W. Couch, W. C. Lumsden, T. S. Beckwith, Jr., and Alexander Wedell, then the support of the surface perintendent of Graco Church Sunday-school, and a number of devoted women school, and a number of devoted worken, most of whom were already engaged in the work of the Sunday-schools of Grace and St. Paul's Churches, in the establishment of a mission school and work in the western part of the city. In her school-room, with her day pupils as a nucleus, an afternoon Sunday-school was established under the superintendency of Dr. Beckwith, which soon grew to large Beckwith, which soon grew to large proportions and taxed the capacity of her house.

Others were in the meantime interested others were in the floating whom were in the mission work, among whom were Dr. J. W. Claibarne, of Grace Church, and Messrs. LOT PURCHASED.

The lot on which St. John's was permanently located was purchased on the 25th May, 1867. This property is on the corner of Washington and Dunlop Streets, one square from the private house in which the work had its conception. In the fall of 1855 a neat frame chapel was the fall of 1855 a neat frame chapel was erected on this lot, which served the pur-poses of the congregation until the pres-ent chapel was crected. The chapel was then reduced in size and moved to the rear of the lot, and is now in use as a Sunday-school room. St. John's was admitted to the council

st. John's was admitted to the meeting as an independent church at the meeting in Charlottesville on May 22, 1874. On April 28, 1899, steps towards a new church building were first undertaken. Considerable amount of money was subscribed, plans secured and adopted, and the old building moved back, but a period of financial stringency put a stop to the

In the fall of 1896 it was determined that a united effort should be made to start the work of building in the spring of 1897. A subscription was started. On Easter Sunday, 1897, contributions of over three thousand dollars were made, and the building committee—Rev. W. A. R. Goodwin, and Messrs, R. O. Egerton, W. M. Habliston, D. M. Brown and Bernard Mann—were instructed to proceed with the work. The cornerstone was laid in September, 1897. This building, erected at a cost of about $15,000, was entered in May 22d, 1898. Since then, the debt on the church has been cut down from time the church has been cut down from time to time, and on Palm Sunday, 1901, the remaining indebtedness of $1.662, was wiped out. This was due to the earnest and consecrated endeavors of the people, assisted by generous contributions from devoted friends of the work, and a subscription from the Bishop from the Bruce raid in full, through the thoughtfulness of a friend, and an annuity on $1.000 has been released by a communicant of the church, leaving the parish entirely free from debt.
